About

Shire Types echo the idiosyncratic vernacular lettering seen across Britain. The family offers a versatile range of styles all with a constant heavy weight. From simple block sans to the more playful uncase and chunky scripts. Fantastic for headings and titles or mixed together to create individually crafted words. The styles are further explored in Cyrillic and Greek as well as Arabic.

Shire Types and Shire Pro

Each family comprises of 6 fonts with varying styles. The types can be mixed together or used individually.

Key details

Sans

Sans serif letter shapes.

Slab

Heavy slab serifs.

Script

Soft strokes and rounded details.

Short

There are no ascenders or descenders in the Shire Types and Shire Pro. Letters shrink to fit a constant measure.

Fitted

Accented letters shrink to fit.

Rogue

Shire Arabic had to break the regimented structure of the Shire Types. Although it's been compressed as much as possible to maintain a family consistency without reducing legibility.

Basic fractions

The Fractions feature will make the basic fraction; half, one quarter, and three quarters.

Capital eszett

Shire Pro Derbyshire and Staffordshire include a capital B design. These are accessible through the application's Glyph palette.

Serbian and Macedonian letters

Serbian and Macedonian use different forms for several characters in their italic. These are included in the more cursive-based fonts of Shore Pro Warwickshire and Worcestershire and can be turned on by selecting Stylistic Alternates or Stylistic Set 1.

Arrows

Shire Pro and Shire Arabic include a selection of arrows which are accessible through the application's Glyph palette.
